

IV Set Solutions program

Bringing your concept to life

Collaborative innovation

Safety by design made easy

As a clinician, providing the best possible care for your patients is of the utmost importance. CareFusion can help.

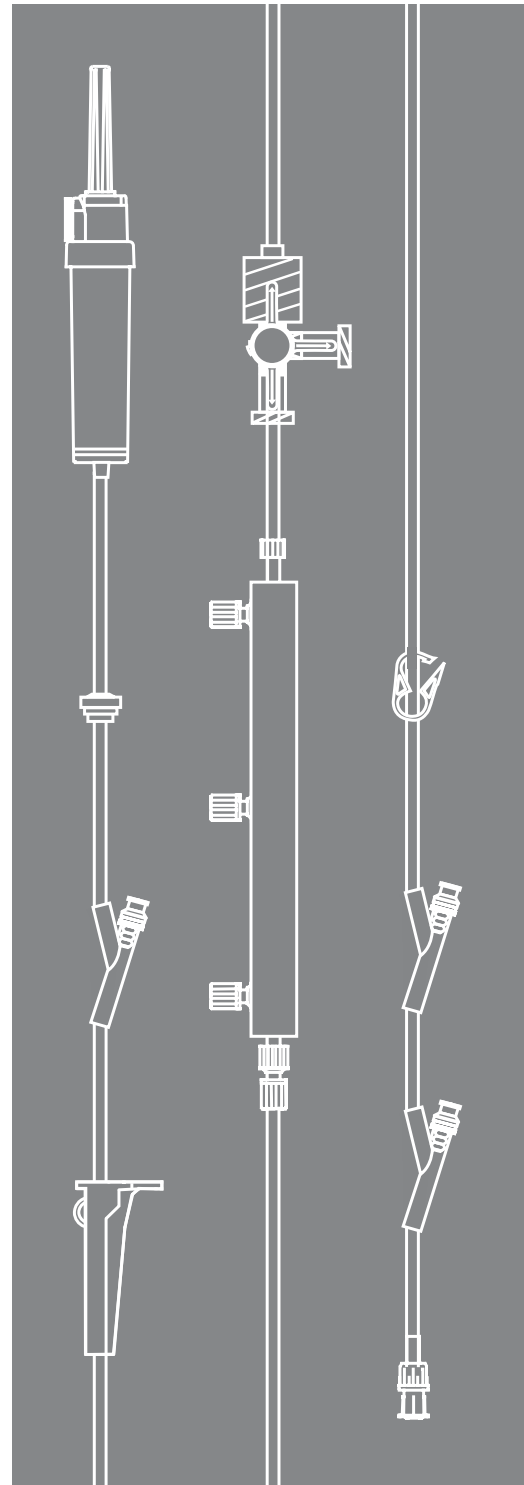

To assist you in improving patient outcomes, we offer a program that allows you to design your own IV sets to meet your particular clinical needs and practice techniques.

The IV Set Solutions program puts the power of product design right into your hands. With IV sets made to your specifications, you'll have access to what you need when you need it, saving you valuable time so you can focus more on patient care.

You design it. We create it. It's that simple.

Our IV Set Solutions program is convenient and easy. A wide range of IV set configurations can be created for all product families using our SmartSite® valve and VersaSafe™ split septum port. Additionally, the SmartSite® positive bolus valve can be incorporated into a variety of extension sets.

We are at your service and are pleased to work with you to create solutions that address your specific procedures and particular preferences.

A simple three-step process

Your sales consultant can help guide you through this simple three-step process. We've even provided you with the enclosed kit which includes graph paper and a convenient and easy-to-use template to help you get started.

- Once we receive your draft design, we'll send you a non-sterile sample (not for human use) within a few business days; a price quote will be sent to you shortly after the samples are shipped
- After you review and approve a sample and price quote, we'll create a final set drawing for you to review, sign and return
- Then, your IV sets will be created using your authorized design

Contact your sales consultant for more information. To locate the sales consultant for your area, please call 800.684.8880.

Business card slit

Business card slit

© 2009 CareFusion Corporation, or one of its subsidiaries. All rights reserved. SmartSite and VersaSafe are trademarks or registered trademarks of CareFusion Corporation or one of its subsidiaries. IV0099 (0909/2000)

carefusion.com

